

Volcano Eruption Safety Tips

If you live near a volcano, follow these safety measures!

1. Talk to your parents about an evacuation route. You might want to have backup route, just in case.
2. Make a communication plan. If you are at school and your parents are at work when an eruption occurs, you need a plan to get back together.
3. Elect an out-of-town relative to be your family contact person. During an emergency, it is sometimes easier to contact someone outside the danger zone. Make sure everyone in your family has the relative's name, address, and phone number.
4. Close and block all windows, dampers, and doors.
5. Bring all of your pets indoors.
6. If there is ash in your area, wear goggles, keep your skin covered, and wear a mask when outdoors.
