Apply What You Learned

This news article is written as a historical narrative. Read it and use it to answer the questions on this page and the next.

The Daily Review, Decatur, IL 15 May 1866
Dayton, OH Storm and Train Wreck, May 1866

DAYTON, OHIO, May 14 — Dayton and country away were visited Wednesday night by the most violent storm that has ever been known in Ohio. The storm which gave rise to many of the heaviest blizzards ever sweeping down on the city, the fury of the elements striking at all points, did unusual damage and destroyed everywhere. It is evident that a series of clouds charged with snow or ice had descended along the line of Wolf Creek to the west of Miami City, sweeping the snows with destruction.

It is impossible to detail the damage. Houses, barns and sheds left their foundations and either tumbled and fell or were floating down the ponds and riding streams to destruction. Thousands of dollars were driven from their homes and hundreds of dollars of damage was done to property throughout the city. Millions of bushels of wheat and corn, and considerable damage to fruit and grain. The wheat loss is the heaviest since the war and the corn millions of dollars.

The railroad suffered badly. Several bridges were broken, one a heavy iron span at West Dayton, the other a stone span bridge near Indiana. The track is torn up for miles and traffic will be interrupted for many days. The Cleveland, Hamilton & Dayton, Cincinnati, Columbus, Cincinnati & Indianapolis and New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio lost ties or more bridges. Not a train passed through the city Wednesday night or yesterday.

One serious wreck occurred on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton general miles west of Dayton, where a freight train dashed through an open bridge into a swollen stream. The engine, three freight cars and the freight are almost a total loss. Engineer John McDermott and others were seriously wounded. A New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio special, containing citizens of the railroad on an inspection tour dashed down an embankment and all were more or less injured, some seriously, unless it be Frederick John Stork, who received a ghastly injury to head and internal organs. A Dayton & Xenia round-train, 200 feet long, collapsed and burned in the mile & a half between Xenia and Dayton.

- Ohio's early economy was based on _____ and industry. Its farms applied _____ to a growing nation. Its forests provided _____ materials.
- Ohio's location between northeastern states and _____ territories was an important factor in the state's growth. Its location attracted businesses and many _____ to settle in Ohio.

Map Skill-Builder

This map shows important areas of economic development in Ohio. Study the map and answer the questions.

- Trace the Ohio River in blue and label it. It forms the border on which sides of Ohio? Circle the answers.
a. north b. south c. east d. west
- What industries developed along the Ohio River and the shore of Lake Erie?
- Why was it important for industries to be near waterways?
- Is coal mining primarily located in the mountains or the plains?
- Is forestry concentrated in eastern or western Ohio?
- Is agriculture concentrated in eastern or western Ohio? Beesides corn, name two other crops.

Fascinating Fact

When it was time to approve the new U.S. Constitution, many states demanded that a bill of rights be added to protect citizens' rights. Adding the Bill of Rights helped to convince many states to approve, or ratify, the U.S. Constitution.

Quick Review

Answer the questions.

- What are the first ten amendments to the U.S. Constitution called?
- What is the purpose of these amendments?
- List 5 rights protected by the First Amendment.

Rapid Recall

Match each quotation to the First Amendment right that is described.

- 1. "I have the right to gather in a group." A. freedom of religion

- 4. "I have the right to see and read many different sources of information." D. freedom of petition
- 5. "I have the right to express my opinion. I can say what I think." E. freedom of assembly
